Working time: 4 Hours

Looking for a great game for you and your friends? Here you can find out how to make the great game idea "Don't drop anything" from simple cardboard rolls, bamboo skewers and hanging hooks and a wooden dice. Game idea: Roll the dice and remove one bamboo skewer in the colour you have rolled from the tower, trying not to drop any hanging hooks.

First of all, use the awl several holes in a cardboard roll. Make sure that 2 holes are exactly opposite each other and at the same height. In our example, we have drilled 12 pairs of holes in the cardboard roll .

In the next step, choose the largest of the hand drill set to widen the holes so that you can push bamboo skewers through the pairs of holes. The excess paper fringes on the inside and outside of the cardboard roll can be easily removed with the help of tweezers scissors and a fine sandpaper.

Then use the side cutter to cut off the lace of the bamboo skewers (approx. 2 - 3 cm) and sand the new ends smooth. Cut out a rounded opening measuring 3 x 3 cm at the point where the hanging eyelets fall out at the bottom and then sand it smooth.

Now make a bevel inside the roll from craft cardboard sheet so that the eyelets can really fall out of the game later. To do this, draw a circle the same size as the opening in the cardboard roll and, when cutting it to size, include a tab for sticking it to the bottom of the roll cardboard roll.

Now paint the cardboard roll in your favorite color and the ends (2 cm) of 4 skewers each in the same color (12 skewers in 3 colors, 4 skewers in one color).

To start the game, push all the painted bamboo skewers into the holes provided and insert the eyelets from above. Now roll the dice.

For the color rolled, a skewer of the same color must be pulled out. This is done alternately until all the eyelets have fallen through. The winner is the player with the fewest eyelets.
